Hi Gina,

I like the bellies smoked. Have you ever split the salmon heads and fried them with flour? Is my favorite way to have salmon head. All you have left is like 4 pieces of bone you can't eat, all the rest is cartilage and meat. So yummy. Not to mention I like the eyeballs.

Here is the QAPP with the requested change.
Thank you for being so quick with this,

Michael

Hello Kathy and Mike

The review of the QAPP listed above has been completed. It is about time that the "actual" fish consumption be addressed and studied especially by the Alaskan tribes . My only comment to this QAPP - please add belly flaps/fat in Table 3 of the survey questionnaire. Those are my favorite parts of fish - the head, the internal organs and the belly flaps with fat. In fact, I don't like fillets at all and how do I like them cooked? I like them boiled with water, vinegar and garlic or ginger, fried or grilled with chopped garlic, onions, tomatoes and tamarind leaves in the belly.

I love this QAPP - I just hope that the "real fish consumption" amount will come out this time from the tribes because it really will mean a lot in the fish consumption and human health risk assessment study that I assume will come out later.

Thank you for giving me a chance to be a part of this study. The QAPP is approvable, just submit a revised and final document with the addition of my comment.
